

The purpose of the homework was to show the importance of loops and how each group of stocks varies throughout the time its open. I did with the help of class time and the class activities. I also googled and watched videos on some of the codes that needed more or my own contribution. My conclusion is that VBA is really difficult, and I never want to revisit it again, I got the hang of it in the end but it's very long.